

SHADOW SCAR

Myriads of Magatama

Cody Pondsmith

Credits

Writing: Cody Pondsmith
Art: Cody Pondsmith
Layout: Cody Pondsmith
Editing: Cody Pondsmith

Legal

Copyright © 2025 by R. Talsorian Games, Inc. All rights reserved under the Universal Copyrights Convention. All situations, governments, and people herein are fictional. Any similarities portrayed herein without satiric intent are strictly coincidental.

Myriads of Magatama

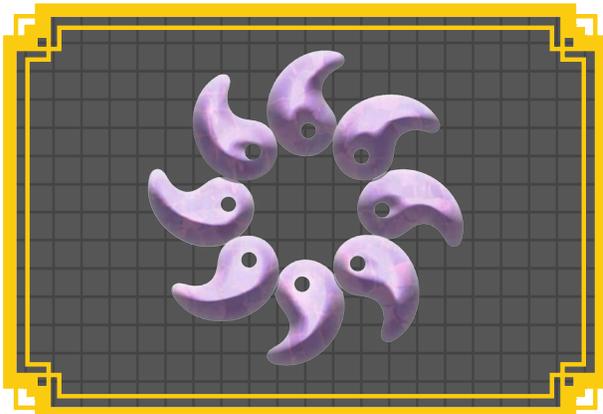

There are a number of small magical tools that the people of Nakatsukuni rely on to make their daily life better. One group of these tools are omamori, talismans that are blessed by kannushi and miko. These paper slips in silken bags bring various pieces of good fortune.

Another, slightly less prevalent magical charm is the magatama. Magatama are gemstone talismans that can be worn as necklaces or bracelets. The talismans are enchanted with magical spells that give the wearer benefits when they drain them of their energy.

The most common magatama type is jade magatama. Jade magatama are enchanted to bring good luck and protect against spiritual assault. When drained of their power, they can change the outcome of a trick task or completely protect a person from being possessed.

However, there are many more types of magatama and each one has their own benefits. Each type of crystal has a special resonance that creates its own type of magical effect.

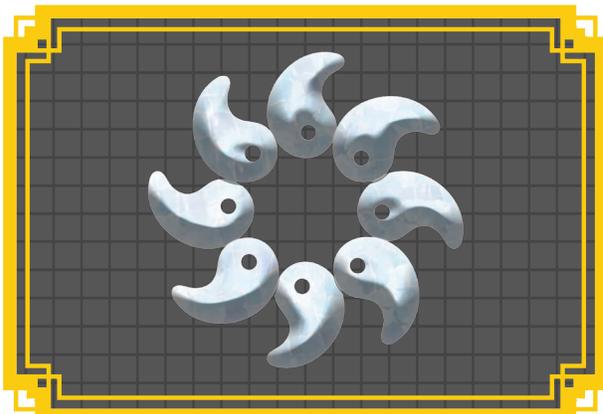

Genin Magatama

Amethyst (3 RP)

This small amethyst talisman is imbued with the power of intuition. People often wear them to empower their intuition and make good decisions.

Once per day, you can drain this amethyst magatama to ask the Storyteller if a course of action would have good or bad consequences. If the action would have both good and bad consequences they will tell you it's mixed.

Opal (3 RP)

This small opal talisman is imbued with the power of purity. People often carry them to keep themselves safe from illness and curses.

Once per day, you can drain this opal magatama to gain a +2 Bonus to Endurance Checks made to end the effects of a poison or a curse.

Onix (3 RP)

This small onix talisman is imbued with the power of focus. People often wear them to keep themselves sharp and protect themselves from unwanted influences.

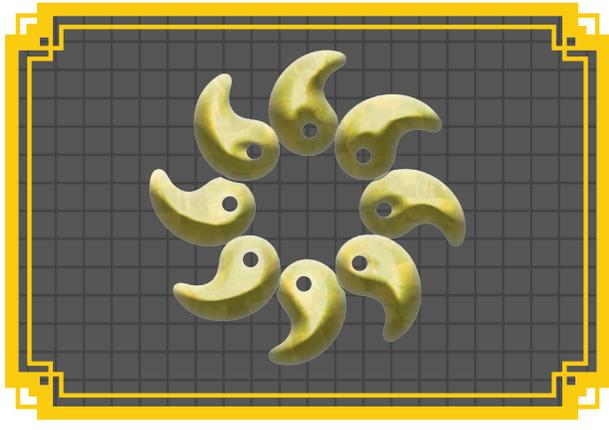

Once per day, you can drain this onix magatama to gain a +2 Bonus to Awareness Check for Initiative and a +2 bonus to Resistance Checks made to resist possession or Social Actions.

Chunin Magatama

Citrine (7 RP)

This small citrine talisman is imbued with the power of balance. People often wear them to keep their spirits balanced and healthy.

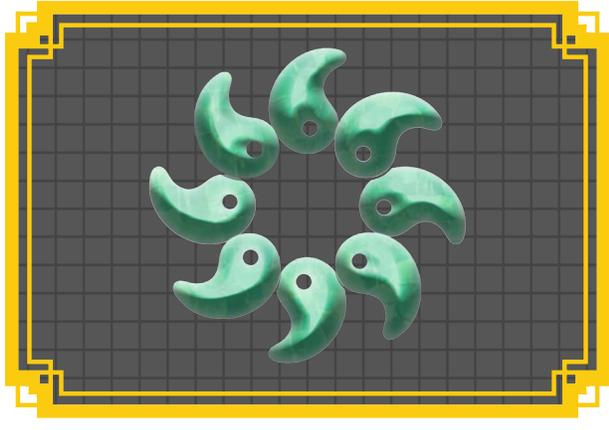

Once per day, you can drain this citrine magatama to instantly remove the Drained Condition from yourself or someone you touch.

Malachite (7 RP)

This small malachite talisman is imbued with the power of change. People often carry them to make opening their minds and helping people overcome their pain easier.

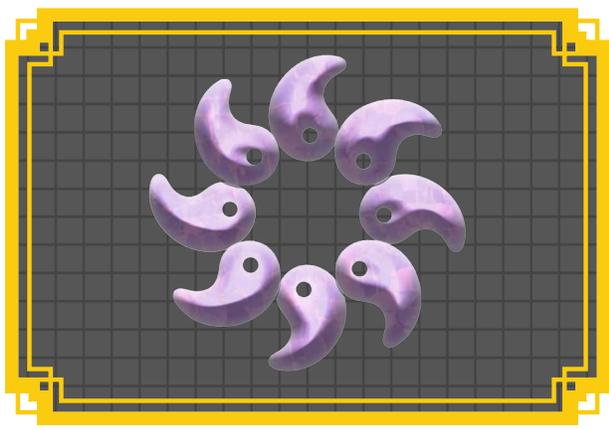

Once per day, you can drain this malachite magatama to remove one Mental State from yourself or from another person you touch.

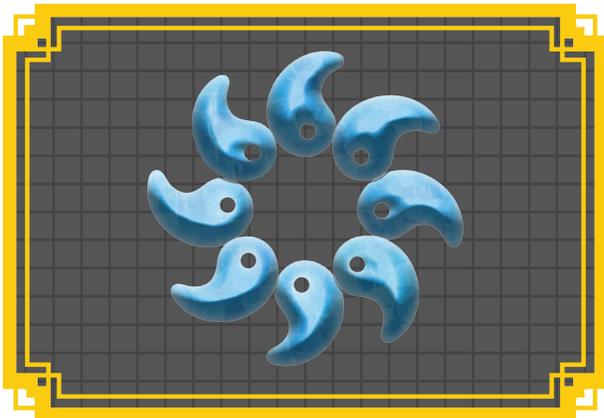

Rose Quartz (8 RP)

This small rose quartz talisman is imbued with the power of love. People often carry them to ward off negative energy and attract positive attention.

Once per day, you can drain this rose quartz magatama you gain the Stunning Advantage for 1 hour. During this time, you can also sense when you come within 30ft of a yokai.

Jounin Magatama

Lapis Lazuli (13 RP)

This small lapis lazuli talisman is imbued with the power of perception. People often wear them to make themselves more perceptive and less likely to lose sight of their objectives.

Once per day, you can drain this lapis lazuli magatama to make yourself immune to the Blinded Condition for 1 hour. During this time, you ignore circumstances that would Obscure a target.

Jasper (15 RP)

This jasper talisman is imbued with the power of courage. People often carry them to protect themselves from fear and physical harm.

Once per day, you can drain this jasper magatama to make yourself immune to the Threatened and Advanced Threatened Mental States for 1 hour. Additionally, you have 2 points of armor which does not stack with any worn armor.